Getting Started with Adjectives

- It's hard to say much using only nouns and pronouns
 - Simon is a father.
 - what kind of father?
 - The king is a man.
 - what kind of man?
- An adjective modifies (describes) a nominal
 - Simon is a good father.
 - The king is an old man.

The Forms of Adjectives

- If you can use nouns and pronouns, you can use adjectives
 - Share the same endings
- Most adjectives have different forms for each gender
 - Like 3rd person personal pronouns
 - masculine (2nd decl. endings)
 - feminine (1st decl. endings)
 - neuter (2nd declension)
 - Dictionary form gives 3 endings
 - καλος, -η, -ον

καλος, -η, -ον

The Case Forms of Καλός, "Good"

	Masc. (2 nd decl.)	Fem. (1 st decl.)	Neut. (2 nd decl.)
nom.	καλός	καλή	καλόν	singular
gen.	καλού	καλής	καλού
voc.	καλέ	καλή	καλόν
nom.	καλοί	καλαι	καλα	plural
gen.	καλών	καλών	καλών
voc.	καλοί	καλαι	καλα

Adjectives are Agreeable

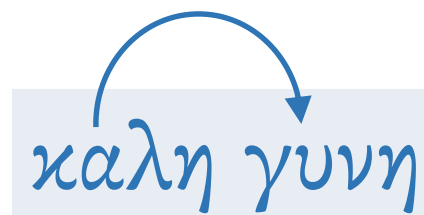

- How do we know which nominal the adjective is describing?
 - In English
 - word order (adj. right before nom.)
 - In Greek
 - word order flexible
- An adjective agrees with the nominal it modifies
 - Same gender
 - Same case
 - Same number (usually)

άνθρωπος κακος

A blue curved arrow points from the adjective 'κακος' back to the noun 'άνθρωπος', indicating agreement.

a bad person

καλη γυνη

A blue curved arrow points from the adjective 'καλη' back to the noun 'γυνη', indicating agreement.

a beautiful woman

οίκος του αγαθου υιου

Three curved arrows indicate agreement: a green arrow from 'αγαθου' to 'οίκος', a grey arrow from 'αγαθου' to 'υιου', and a grey arrow from 'υιου' to 'οίκος'.

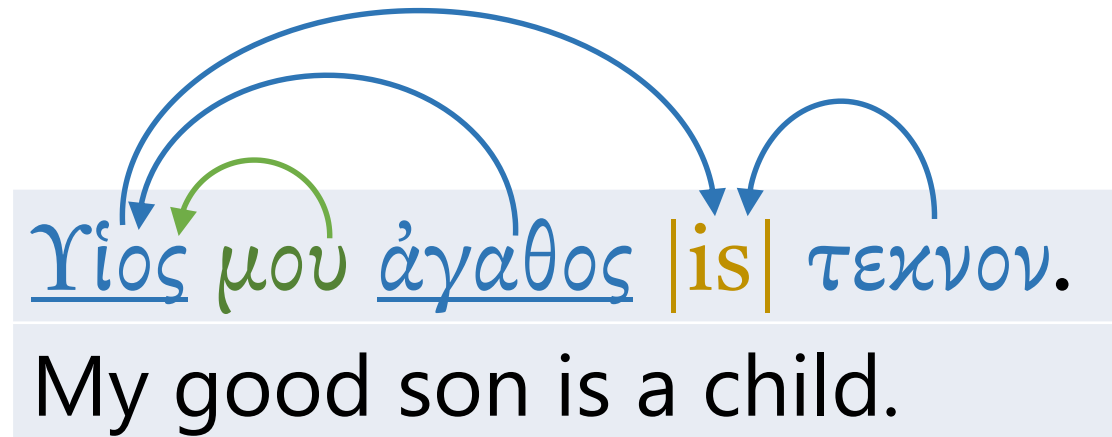

a house that belongs to the good son

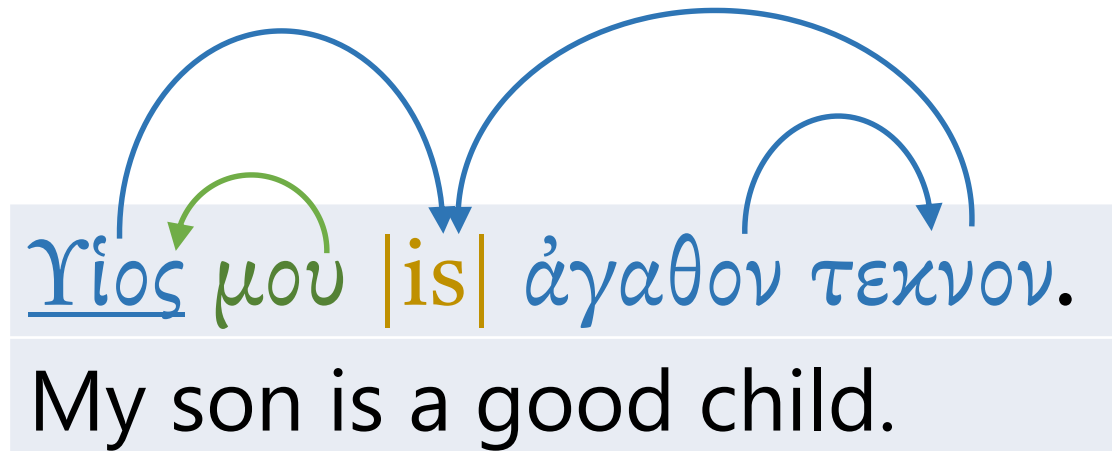

Adjectives are Agreeable

- How do we know which nominal the adjective is describing?
 - In English
 - word order (adj. right before nom.)
 - In Greek
 - word order flexible
- An adjective agrees with the nominal it modifies
 - Same gender
 - Same case
 - Same number (usually)

Υἱός μου ἀγαθός |is| τέκνον.
My good son is a child.

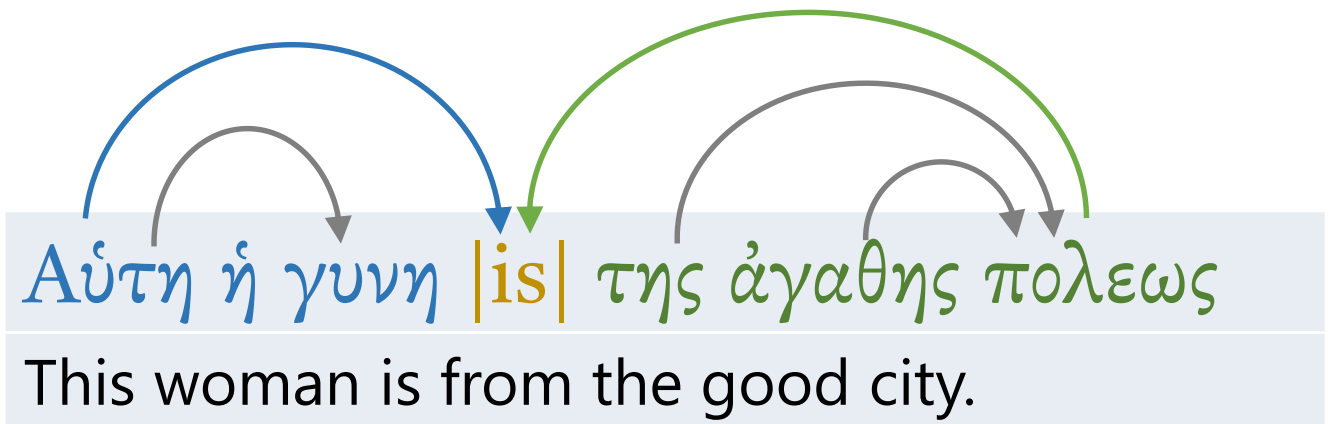

Υἱός μου |is| ἀγαθόν τέκνον.
My son is a good child.

Adjectives are Agreeable

- Normal adjectives keep their 1st or 2nd declension endings
 - Even when modifying 3rd declension nominals

Positioning Adjectives

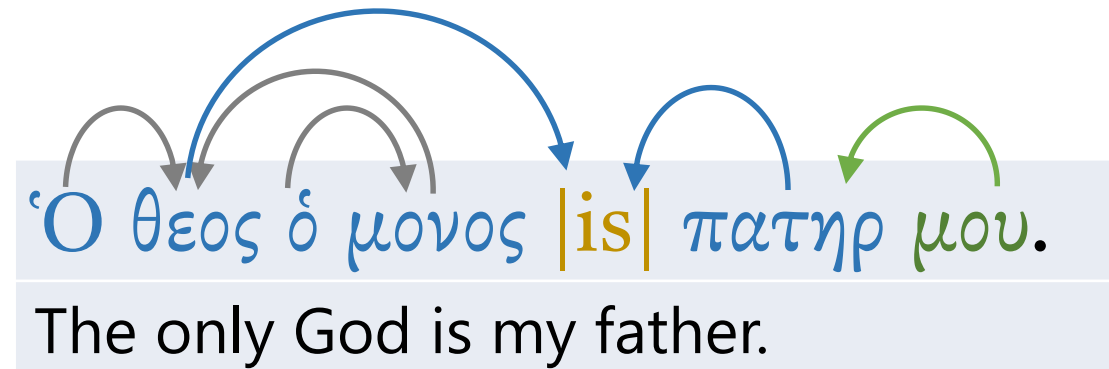

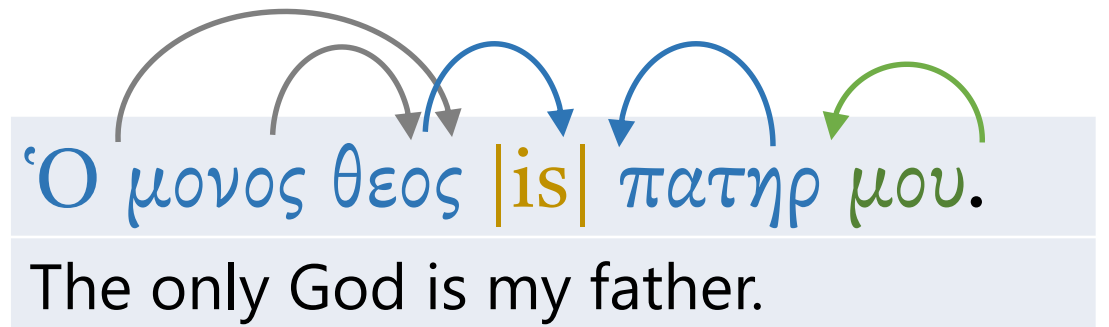

- Attributive position

- Either

- Place adjective between the nominal and its article
 - Repeat the article in front of the adjective

- Indicates the adjective is modifying this nominal directly

- Only possible with definite nominals

Positioning Adjectives

- Attributive position
 - Watch out for proper nouns (names)
 - they are implicitly definite
 - treat them as if they have an article in front

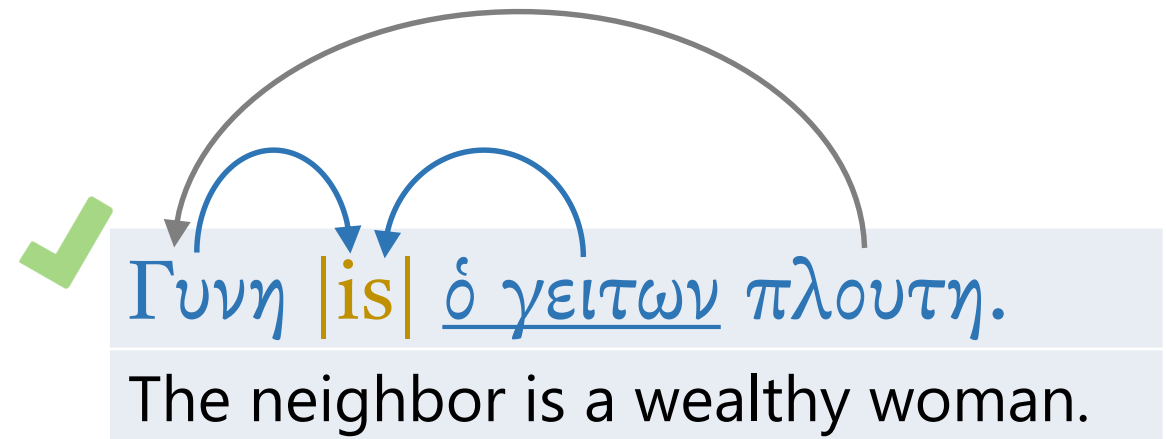

Positioning Adjectives

- Attributive position
 - Generally adjectives modify the closest valid nominal (before or after)
 - Unless context makes it clear which word the adjective modifies
 - Agreement can rule out some possibilities

Positioning Adjectives

- Attributive position
 - Generally adjectives modify the closest valid nominal (before or after)
 - Unless context makes it clear which word the adjective modifies
 - Agreement can rule out some possibilities

Positioning Adjectives

- “Predicate position”
 - Adjective is the predicate complement of a verbless clause
 - Definite nominal
 - Adjective not between article and nominal
 - No article repeated in front of adjective.
- Other signs the adj. might be a predicate complement?
 - No verb in the clause
 - Only one nominal in the nominative case

Ἡ θυγατηρ | is | καλη.

The daughter is beautiful.

Καλη | is | ἡ θυγατηρ.

The daughter is beautiful.

Positioning Adjectives

- Attributive vs. Predicate
 - Harder to recognize attributive use when nominal is indefinite
 - no article
- An adjective may not be close to the nominal it modifies
 - Look for a nominal that agrees in case, gender, and number

Substantive Adjectives

- Adjective used as a nominal (substantive)
 - Not describing another word
 - Identifying a person/thing with a particular attribute
 - Gender follows the referent
- Signs an adjective is substantive
 - Definite article in front
 - No agreeing nominal for it to modify
 - Or nominals that do agree wouldn't make sense

ὁ ἀγαθός	the good man
ἡ ἀγαθή	the good woman
το ἀγαθόν	the good thing (or "goodness")

The Special Neuter Plurals

- Neuter plural adjectives are often substantive
 - Substantive even though no article
- Most often with these irregular adjectives
 - παντα = "everything" or "all things"
 - πολλα = "many things"
- Can happen with other adjectives too
 - καλα = "good things"

Keep Learning

- You can learn more about Greek adjectives and their uses here:
 - Mounce, Basics of Biblical Greek (3rd edition)
 - adjectives, 9.1-9.13 (pp. 66-68), 9.15 (p. 68), 9.17 (p. 69), 9.19 (p. 72)
 - πᾶς, 10.22 (pp. 85-86)
 - adjective categories, 10.23 (p. 86)
 - πολυς, 13.13 (p. 110)

Mounce discusses all of the cases together when he discusses adjectives. Don't worry yet about the accusative or dative forms.
