Plural Forms of Nominals

- So far we have only talked about one thing at a time
  - How would we talk about Maria's "children"?
- We need to learn how to make nominals plural
  - In English we usually add -s on the end
    - parent -> parents
    - dog -> dogs
    - house -> houses
  - But we have some irregular English plurals
    - child -> children
- The bad news
  - Plural nouns take another set of endings
- The good news
  - Clearly related to the singular endings
  - Much more regular than singulars

The Disagreeable Neuter Plural

- Usually nominals agree with their adjectives and pronouns
  - Same gender, case, and number
- The neuter plural is an exception!
  - Adjectives and pronouns can disagree with their nominal in number
    - Same gender and case
    - But can be singular!

Τα τέκνα τουτο.

These are the children.

Keep Learning

- You can learn more about nominative and genitive plural nominals here:
  - Mounce, Basics of Biblical Greek (3rd edition)
    - nominative, 6.8 (p. 30), 6.12-6.18 (pp. 32-35)
    - definite article, 6.19-6.24 (pp. 35-36)
    - genitive, 7.1 (p. 43), 7.3-7.4 (pp. 43-44), 7.8-7.11 (pp. 45-47), 7.16 (p. 49)
    - pronouns, 11.1-11.10 (pp. 91-93), 12.1-12.11 (100-103), 13.1-13.9 (pp. 107-109)

Mounce introduced plural forms early on when he introduced the cases. You can go back and review those sections, focusing now on the plural endings.
