Making Deliveries

- Two important liquid verbs
 - Stem change in aor. (no σ) but 1st aorist endings
- φερω, "carry, lift, bear"
 - Metaphorically: "endure, survive; tolerate, support"
 - Future and aorist stems borrowed from other verbs
 - Future, οἶσω (οἶσ-)
 - Liquid aor., ἤνεγκα (ἐνεγκ-)
 - Aorist passive: ἤνεχθην
- αἶρω, "take up, take away, remove"
 - Future, ἄρω (ἄρ-)
 - Liquid aor., ἦρα (ἄρ-)
 - Aor. pass., ἦρθην (ἄρ-)

Making Deliveries

- δεχομαι, "I receive"
 - Remember $\chi + \sigma = \xi$ (1st aor., ἐδεξαμην)
- πεμπω, "send"
 - Remember $\pi + \sigma = \psi$ (1st aor., ἐπεμψα; future, πεμψω)
 - Remember $\pi + \theta = \phi\theta$ (aor. pass., ἐπεμφθην)

Greek Words for Clothing

- ὁ χιτων, "tunic"
 - Gen.: χιτωνος (stem χιτων-)
 - The basic garment for both genders
 - Floor-length for women, knee-length for men
 - Usually tied at the waist
- ὁ πεπλος, "dress"
 - Specific term for woman's longer tunic
 - Similar to ἡ στολη

Greek Words for Clothing

- το ἵματιον, "cloak, outer garment"
 - Large rectangle of cloth
 - Wrapped various ways around shoulders and body
 - Jesus removes before washing Peter's feet
- ἡ χλαμυς, "cloak, cape"
 - 3rd decl., gen. χλαμυδος (stem χλαμυδ-)
 - Shorter than the ἵματιον
 - Pinned at the neck or shoulder, rather than wrapped
 - Worn by men, esp. hunters or soldiers
